The Brazilian Hoodia!

Experience the slimming power and energy of Chá de Bugre. Predicted to be even more popular and effective than Hoodia!

Chá de Bugre is a common weight loss product in Brazil. It has long been sold as an appetite suppressant, but does not cut off appetite altogether which can cause intense hunger when it wears off at the wrong time. Chá de Bugre gives one a sense of being full and satiated, thus enabling one to eat smaller portions or even smaller meals more often. Many practitioners suggest this is better for sustained weight loss and keeping the metabolism going throughout the day.
